For more information, see the UO Academic Calendar website at http://www.uoregon.edu/~registrar/common/cals/acadmcal.htm.

Number of credits or units that undergraduate students need to complete in one semester/term (please state both maximum & minimum load)

The minimum full-time study load is twelve credits for undergraduates. The exchange program covers up to 16 credits per term. Students are allowed to take a maximum of 21 credits per term, but must pay for additional credits above 16.

Number of credits or units required for completion of undergraduate honours degree

See the Clark Honors College website: http://honors.uoregon.edu/curriculum/graduation. Exchange students are generally accepted as non-degree seeking students.

Language of instruction (If English is not the medium of instruction, are courses taught in English available?)

The language of instruction is English.

Are there any special language courses for exchange students? If yes, please advise on the schedule and costs of the courses

Academic English for International Students (AEIS) is a program designed to help international students develop specialization in English for academic purposes. AEIS offers courses in speaking skills, listening, reading and vocabulary, and writing.
Exchange students are not required to take AEIS courses, but they may participate in the program if they wish. Courses are offered during the Fall, Winter, and Spring terms. For schedule and cost information, see http://aei.uoregon.edu.

Medical insurance

| Are exchange students required to purchase a compulsory plan? If yes, please provide details about the plan and how to purchase. | Health insurance is required for all students in J-1 status by the U.S. Department of State. In addition, the University of Oregon has its own specific health insurance and immunization requirements for all international students. Since health insurance is a requirement, the University of Oregon will automatically bill your student account for health insurance unless you submit a health insurance waiver form and proof of adequate health insurance. Immunizations (2 doses of MMR) or an immunization exemption certificate are required for all students attending the UO. Students will not be allowed to enroll in classes at the UO if they have not submitted |

APPLICATION PROCEDURES AND ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS:
See the UO Application Procedures sheet for this information.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:
Undergraduate students are encouraged to submit their application documents by February 1st. Architecture, Interior Architecture, Landscape Architecture, Product Design, and Music have an early application deadline of January 15th. Graduate students should refer to the departmental deadlines found at this website: http://gradschool.uoregon.edu/?page=gradProgramInfo. Please submit all application materials to the study abroad coordinator at your home university. Submitting exchange student applications by the deadline will allow students to apply for on-campus housing and other benefits.
ACADEMIC STATUS:
Exchange students are generally accepted to the UO in non-degree status. Students wishing to apply for degree status after arrival must complete a UO application, pay a $50 application fee, and meet all departmental requirements necessary for admission. Acceptance in degree status is not guaranteed and should not be assumed.

REGISTRATION AND COURSE AVAILABILITY:
The University of Oregon catalog provides an overview of departments and general course descriptions at http://uocatalog.uoregon.edu/. The course offerings for a specific term are available a few months before the start of the term: http://classes.uoregon.edu/. For reference, students may also wish to review course offerings from past terms, which are available online at http://registrar.uoregon.edu/calendars/prior_class_schedules.

Undergraduate students will register as part of International Student Orientation after arrival at UO. Graduate students will be able to register for courses through their academic department. Some courses are reserved for degree-seeking students. Students should remain flexible in their course selection.
The University of Oregon cannot guarantee that students will be able to register for every course they choose. All new students will be able to meet with an academic advisor to assist with registration during the International Student Orientation.

EXCHANGE SCHOLARSHIP AND FULL-TIME STATUS:
The UO exchange student scholarship covers a maximum of 16 credits per term. Undergraduate students are required to register for at least 12 credits per term. Graduate students are required to register for at least 9 credits per term. Costs incurred for courses above 16 credits or programs requiring additional or “special” fees are not covered by the UO agreement.

To maintain the exchange student scholarship, undergraduate students must achieve a 2.0 GPA and graduate students must achieve a 3.0 GPA each term during the exchange program.

ESTIMATED EXPENSES (2012-2013):
Exchange students receive a tuition waiver scholarship for the period of their exchange. Students are responsible for paying tuition and fees for courses above 16 credits, as well as lab fees, special fees, late fees, and living expenses. Living expenses are estimated below. Please note that room and board estimates are based on a shared room with a standard meal plan in the UO residence halls.

SCHOLARSHIP AND EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES:
Several scholarships are available to cover additional (non-tuition and fee) educational expenses; the specific scholarships available to all exchange students are the Pressman Family Scholarship (approximately $1,000) and the Jim and Jean Tattersall International Student Scholarship (approximately $1,000 - $3,000). Information regarding these two scholarships, as well as other endowed scholarships offered to students from specific geographic regions may be found online at http://international.uoregon.edu/index.php/scholarshipsfinancialaid.
Exchange students are also eligible for on-campus employment, and may work up to 20 hours per week at any type of job so long as it is on the premises of the University. Alternatively, exchange students may apply for the International Student Work-Study Program, which grants a limited number of work-study awards (ranging from $500-$3,000) each year to eligible international students who demonstrate financial need. Students who receive these awards can compete for on-campus work-study jobs during the academic year. The work-study application is available online at http://international.uoregon.edu/index.php/students/exchange-students/290-employment. Please note that receipt of a work-study award does not constitute a guarantee that on-campus employment opportunities will be available.

HOUSING:

Residence Halls: The University of Oregon’s on-campus residence halls are furnished, and include a meal plan. A variety of room types and special interest halls are available; for more information about the UO Residence Halls, please visit: http://housing.uoregon.edu/reshalls/. Students who wish to live on campus in the UO Residence Halls are encouraged to submit their housing application as early as possible, as on-campus housing is awarded on a first-come, first-serve basis.

University Apartments: All admitted, full-time students are eligible to apply for apartments or family housing, but students with families and graduate students have first priority for placement. For applications and more information about University Apartments, see the University Apartments website at: http://housing.uoregon.edu/apartments/.

Off-campus Housing: Students planning to live off campus should arrive one to two weeks before International Student Orientation. For more information about off-campus housing, see the Associated Students of the University of Oregon (ASUO) Rental Services website at: http://asuorental.uoregon.edu/.

Graduate students may see this website: http://pages.uoregon.edu/chem/academics.html?housing.

HEALTH INSURANCE:

UO international students are required to purchase the International Student health insurance plan administered by the UO's Student Health Center, or apply for a health insurance waiver and provide proof of a comparable plan. The UO insurance policy is designed specifically for international students and meets all U.S. government visa requirements. For the health insurance waiver and more information, please visit: http://healthcenter.uoregon.edu/insurance/International_main_page.html.

All students must provide proof of measles and mumps (MMR) vaccination before registering for UO courses. Please submit immunization documents at least 2 weeks in advance of the start of classes to allow time for processing documents. For more information, see http://healthcenter.uoregon.edu/immunization/required_international.html.
